San Giuseppe

WHITE COLLECTION
MOSCATO PUGLIA

About this Selection:

San Giuseppe Moscato is a soft, semi dry, white wine that should be served well chilled to appreciate its luxuriant character.

Moscato is fast becoming one of Italy's most popular white wine. We already see imitators, but no duplicators.

The Grape:

San Giuseppe Moscato is made from 100 percent Moscato grapes grown in the Puglia region of Italy. These grapes develop to their maximum ripeness in the Southern Adriatic climate. Then to the Asti region, up North, for their expertise in Moscato wine making.

Winemaker Notes:

The key to producing the superior taste of San Giuseppe Moscato is balancing the luscious sweetness of Moscato grapes from Puglia while retaining a light, delicate character not found in low price imitators.

Tasting Notes:

Traditionally Moscato is served with the fruit and dessert course. However, its recent popularity is due to enjoying it for the sake of enjoying it.
